111 pleads guilty to "piquant" language in this column. So does 110, 109, 108, 107, 106, 105, 104, 103, 102, 101, 100, 99, 98, his predecessors.

Piquant by first definition in one dictionary means: "having an agreeably pungent or tart taste. A second definition includes "racy" which we are unaware of, and also "interesting; tart; charmingly lively."

We 14 columnists of continuity believe in words, or we wouldn't use them. We read more and more that words are the least influential of communication modes.

But what is revolutionary rhetoric, but heated up words? It always is verbal action before the rocks fly. What sends the crowds of students into quadrangle and street save words? What soothes frazzled emotions? Words, cooler and mellower. It's rhetoric up and down the flagpole. With words comes some kind of action.

People look askance at times to the moustache we wear: is he "hippy" or Texas Ranger?

If beauty is in the eye of the beholder, might evil not also be?

There we go again with "piquancy". It's a sin we readily admit to. And 112 and 113 and even "Now" the weekend alternative to this froth will so admit.

Would you bother to read otherwise?

GEORGE DID IT...

A page ad of April 27, running a history of haybaling and a conventional ad and a picture of American Revolutionary troops defending behind a stack of bales, ran in this newspaper. The ad received the following comments:

Mr. T. D. Corley
Cameron Equipment Co.
Box 232
Cameron, Texas

Dear Tommy:
Thanks very much for the copy of your ad and Haymaking history that you ran in the Cameron, Texas, Herald on April 27, 1970.

This was an excellent advertisement in my opinion and one of the most novel I have ever seen. Whoever designed the entire layout deserves considerable credit for his ingenuity. I have taken the liberty of sending this on to our Advertising and Public Relations Manager in New Holland, Pennsylvania as I am sure he would be interested in seeing what one of our dealers is doing at the local level....

Sincerely yours,

County GOP Names Delegates

Milam County Republicans held their county convention at 7:30 Saturday evening in the commissioners' courtroom at the courthouse, and in a two hour session named delegates to the GOP State Convention scheduled for September 15 in Fort Worth, and passed three resolutions.

One of the resolutions endorsed President Richard Nixon's actions in conducting the war in Southeast Asia.

GOP County Chairman, J. Estel Johnston of Rockdale, was elected permanent chairman of the convention, Mrs. James E. Luckey was elected secretary, and Jack W. Tumlinson of Cameron, parliamentarian.

Two committees also were named. The Committee on Delegates includes Jack Tumlinson, chairman, Mrs. Luckey and S. L. Cowan. The Committee on Resolutions has James Luckey as chairman, and members are Mrs. Jack Tumlinson and Lloyd Albertson.

Five delegates and alternates were named to fill the Milam GOP's quota to attend the State Convention in Ft. Worth. Delegates are: Johnston, Tumlinson, Luckey, Albertson and John A. Smith. Alternates are: Mrs. J. Estel Johnston, Mrs. Jack W. Tumlinson, Mrs. Luckey, Mrs. John Mudge and Mrs. John A. Smith.

Johnston will lead the ten-member group as chairman of the delegation. The Republican State Convention is expected to be one of the most important held in recent years, since the national GOP has designated Texas as one of a half dozen "target areas" to elect a U. S. Senator and Governor.

Reliable rumors are that President Richard Nixon or Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will address the convention when it meets on September 15.

The three resolutions passed

Approval Confirmed For UR Plan

Cameron Urban Renewal Agency has received confirmation that the City's Part I urban renewal application has been approved in Washington by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

A. W. McCullin Sr., Cameron Urban Board chairman, said the confirmation was by telegram from Cong. W. R. Poage in Washington to Mayor E. A. Perrin.

The telegram stated that authority to act on the application "has been and is presently delegated to regional administrator at Fort Worth."

First notice of approval for the project was received by the Agency in April, when the Fort Worth HUD office advised that $617,535 in grant funds have been reserved for the project.

The letter also authorized start of Part II loan and grant application, which must be submitted by August 17. The Part II program includes detailing plans to execute the Part I proposals, calling for a public hearing, approval of the Cameron City Council and other work.

The City Council has called for the hearing, or "town meeting" on June 16, 7:30 p.m. at Methodist Fellowship Hall. Other work involved in preparation of Part II is much less than was required for Part I.

Breakin, Fight Are Reported

Law enforcement officials reported a fairly quiet week in the county and city, with one breakin and a fight, plus several arrests for driving while intoxicated.

Sheriff Carl Black said he received a report of a breakin at a filling station in Thorndale, however he said nothing was reported missing. The station was apparently entered through a window Monday night.

City police reported a fight outside the Friendly Tavern about 10 p.m. Thursday night. William Delone Halpain of Cameron was charged in Justice of the Peace Court with simple assault and fined $50 in connection with the incident.

Reportedly injured in the fight was Wallace Martin of Cameron, who was taken to a local hospital and then transferred to a Temple hospital. He was treated for knife wounds and released, police said.

Milam Demos Hold Convention

Milam County Democrats, meeting in the district courtroom Saturday night, voted approval of the administration of Gov. Preston Smith, elected Morris Coward permanent chairman of the county convention and elected 14 delegates to the State Democratic Convention.

Only dissension in the convention was over allowing a group of delegates to enter the meeting after the doors were locked at 8 p.m.

H. H. Coffield, a delegate from Rockdale, challenged admittance of a group, including convention parliamentarian Dan Kubiak of Rockdale, who arrived at the courtroom door after it had been locked for the convention.

The convention was adjourned to allow the group to enter and the meeting called to order a second time.

Coward, acting chairman of Milam Democrats since the resignation of Max McClaren, was named Permanent Chairman to serve until votes are canvassed following the run-off primary June 6.

Delegates named for the State Democratic Convention in Fort Worth in September are Gordon Baskin, Max McClaren, Felix Matula, Jr., Lawrence Zote, and Bassel Wilson of Cameron, Charles Edward Hensley of Maysfield, Roy Law of Salem, Howard Crisco, W. P. Hogan, Emory Camp, H. H. Coffield and Harold Love of Rockdale, G. R. Garner of Gause and Mrs. Dora McCasland of Thorndale. Convention delegates also passed a resolution commending Gov. Preston Smith and backing all Democratic nominees in the November general election from the precinct to national level.

Once Again, One Again...

Let us be people again. . . . a great people.

Away with the easy way, of priding ourselves to a piece of ground, a scrap of dogma, a length of hair, a sigh of resignation, a snarl of contempt.

For a time. . . now. . . . remember what we are. And remembering, ask:

Have we gone too far, we megapolicist students?

Have we listened too little, we busy parents?

Have we published too much, taught too little, we academics?

Have we raised buildings and hollowed men, we industrial leaders?

Must we prove ourselves right because they say we are wrong, we adults?

Must we listen to reason when revolutionaries promise abandon, we students?

Must we confront when dialogue is rock before cold steel?

Can we find a letter of light before this dialogue reddens?

Are we not of great promise,

Folk Fete Unity....

Congratulations to the numerous people who are joining the Folk Fete effort, which now has the dimensions of a real community festival.

Volunteer effort by the dozen is making the framework of the Fete sound. It is upon such participation that good things happen.

Barring the unforeseen, it is possible the Folk Fete will live up to its promise, said by experts in festival develop-crowded beyond reason, away from home, time hanging heavy, pressed to deadline, grasping at frustration, we students?

Have we no hope, crowded beyond reason, away from our roots, time hanging heavy, pressed to deadline, grasping for release, we adults?

Aren't the questions the same, the tensions the same, the incommunicado the same, the pace the same, the frustrations the same, only the frequency different?

Need we a Spock to eulogize a student? Or need a father his son?

Need we a professor to inspire our children? Or need a mother a home for her daughter?

Need we a lecture or an arm around the shoulder?

Need we a thrust fist or a bent knee?

Are we not of greatness, this nation of so many who have done so much? Dare we not, once again, one again, reach for greatness?

ment to have the dynamics of great expectation.

This expectation is not coming about without a lot of work and commitment.

And those dozens of leaders and hundreds of participants which now join in this event are to be commended for placing their diversity in unity.

And that is real achievement in an otherwise fragmented world. We say again that Milam County can see the good in similarities.

transcontinental couriers, armored bank vans, and the like. And this was only an immediate, unplanned, and unprepared response to a presumably temporary need.

"For a Nation that considers itself a leader in technological advancement, to allow efficient mail service to be hindered by a prohibition on private carriers is ludicrous in the extreme..." (These Congressmen cosponsored House Bill 16691: Dickinson (Ala.), Flowers (Ala.), Edwards (Ala.), Buchanan (Ala.), Andrews (Ala.), Frey (Fla.), Chappell (Fla.), Gibbins (Fla.), Sikes (Fla.), Griffin (Miss.), Eckhardt (Tex.), Wright (Tex.).)

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT
Last fall the British General Post Office emerged as a Post Office Corporation. The letter service must now pay its way. Deliveries have been cut back with one only on Saturdays but two on other weekdays. This compares with only one delivery in the United States.

In Britain even people living in high-rise apartment blocks still get their letters delivered to their own letterboxes. Those living at isolated farms and cottages on either the mainland or one of the British islands get doorstep delivery. That's quite a service for 4 or 5 cents, almost every day of the year. Unlike the United States, mail carried internally in Britain by plane costs no more than by road or rail. If competition is good for business, it just might be good for the American postal system.—J.C.

Dateline Austin....

Yarborough, Sadler Are Upset In May 2 Primary

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN
U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and State Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler were upset victims in the May 2 Democratic primary to Lloyd Bentsen and State Rep. Robert L. (Bob) Armstrong.

Scene of political action now shifts to the general election where Bentsen faces Republican Senate candidate George Bush, Gov. Preston Smith, unopposed in the Democratic primary, is confronted with GOP Paul Eggers, Bush and Eggers won nominations easily over Robert Morris and Roger Martin in the Republican primary.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin won third term nomination handily over Judge David H. Brown and faces Edward M. Yturri, GOP, in November. Democrat Ben Ramsey had no difficulty with Connie Lawson and is unopposed in November. Truman Roberts defeated Earl W. Smith for Court of Criminal Appeals.

James G. Denton appeared to be the Supreme Court contest winner over Matt Davis and Hawthorne Phillips, L. Gov. Ben Barnes, unopposed in the Democratic primary, is challenged by Byron Fullerton, GOP, in November. Four other GOP candidates will wage token campaigns for statewide office against Democrats.

CAPITOL PRECAUTIONS

Tighter security measures may be ordered for the historic state capitol—always wide open to visitors—in the wake of a violent anti-war demonstration there last week.

Three 82-year-old etched glass door panels were smashed when a mob of 200 obscenity-shouting youths stormed through the rotunda. A tear gas grenade was tossed into the north corridor as police chased the demonstrators back through the building and onto the University of Texas campus.

Twice within the next two days, the capitol was evacuated due to telephone bomb threats. Riot-equipped Department of Public Safety officers took up stations inside or patrolled the grounds as demonstrations continued on the UT campus.

Gov. Preston Smith said damage and disrespect may force tougher security, though the capitol has been the scene of many undisturbed peaceful demonstrations in the past.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court agreed with lower courts that 6,972 acres of Victoria County oil land belong to private owners, not the state, in a prolonged land vacancy dispute. Had plaintiff in the vacancy action been right, Texas might have recovered up to $100 million in mineral rights. Dallas grocery chain stores were rejected by the High Court in their effort to obtain a sales tax break due to trading stamps given their customers. Chain wanted to deduct the cost of stamps before figuring the sales tax owed the state.

Third Court of Civil Appeals affirmed $40,813 in damages to a Temple brakeman injured in Atcheson, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad braking accident, but cut the award $38,650 below the trial court verdict.

POLICY APPROVED

State Board of Education adopted the policy that contributions of ethnic and racial groups should be taught. Board also proclaimed that literature books must be free of offensive language and that life science texts will present evolution as a theory rather than a fact.

Per capita state aid to local districts was increased from $114.40 to $117.65 per student for the current school year. Board authorized application for $1.8 million in federal anti-poverty funds to help train 900 migrant workers for city jobs, approved a $2 million special vocational program for poor students and empowered the Texas Education Agency to seek a $50,000 federal grant to continue technical assistance to school districts with desegregation and other ethnic problems.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

State Credit Union Commissioner cannot enter a proposed truth in lending liaison agreement with the Federal Trade Commission, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held in a recent opinion.

In other rulings, Martin concluded that:
•State Comptroller can write rules by which Texas Tech University art works can be temporarily exchanged with other universities and museums.

•Texas Tort Claims Act does not cover school districts except as to motor vehicles, but limitation does not apply to Junior College districts.

•Penal Code article pertaining to seizure and confiscation of devices prohibited in Espiritu Santo Bay and other waters pending trial, and destruction of the prohibited devices on conviction for possession or use, is constitutional.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

After reading every newspaper I could get my hands on during the last few years and after long and hard thinking I have figured out why the United States is constantly getting into hot water all over the world, and furthermore I've figured out how to put a stop to it.

The way to put a stop to it is to stop teaching geography. It's a knowledge of geography that gets us into trouble.

According to a newspaper I read last night, the United States has less than 2 per cent of the world's population, and yet we have protective agreements and aid programs with countries scattered all over the globe.

Nobody with that small a percentage should be spreading himself so thin, and we wouldn't if the schools would stop teaching geography.

It's too late for the next few Presidents, but what we eventually need is a President who never has heard of most of the countries on earth.

What we need is somebody who, when the White House gets a telegram from say Afghanistan asking for help before its government topples, turns to a secretary and says, "Afghanistan? Whereabouts in North Dakota is that? Let the Governor handle his own problem."

It's too late to get Congressmen born in a log cabin, but it looks like we ought to be able to find some who grew up without televisions and never heard of Kubango and don't know whether it's a river or a principality. Don't ask me which either.

We need somebody who, when a delegation arrives in Washington from some unpronounceable foreign country asking for help and advisers, says, "Well, you see, we got this note to meet ourselves, but I hope you have a good trip back to Mississippi."

It's getting financially harder and harder to get to the moon and Southeast Asia at the same time, I don't want to sound like a protester, but I say down with geography.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Report On Retirement Marriages

A second marriage by an older couple can make retirement more successful. This is the conclusion of a University Sociologist after a study of 100 marriages by older couples.

All of them had been in the present marriage at least five years. The women were past 60 years of age and the men past 65 when they married.

Usually these marriage partners had known each other for a long time, had been friends or were related by a previous marriage.

In some cases they had mutual friends who gave them moral support to face the frowns of their families and society, reports Minnie Bell, Extension specialist for aging at Texas A&M University.

Since older parents no longer live in the home of their offspring, marriage is one solution to having a home of their own.

Miss Bell notes that the intelligent older woman becomes more interesting with years, especially with wisdom, wit and the understanding of men so she can expect to be sought as a marriage partner.

With a longer and healthier life, the more independent retirees are apt to enter into the "twilight" marriage.

Warnings Issued To Car Owners

Organized automobile theft rings have been experiencing increasing difficulty because of the change-over by major automobile manufacturers to more complicated locking devices. The improved locks first made their appearance in the 1969 models, and a further improvement has been incorporated in the 1970 models.

Because of this frustrating turn of events, the theft rings have now adopted some new techniques. One of these is based on the common knowledge that automobile manufacturers are now required to advise purchasers of defects found to exist in certain model cars.

A member of the ring calls a purchaser of a late model (and usually expensive) automobile, claiming to be from the dealer's office. He indicates that a certain defect has been discovered and that the factory has requested return of the car to remedy the defect.

To avoid any inconvenience to the purchaser, the "dealer" arranges to have someone stop by to pick the car up and indicates they will deliver it again after repair.

This technique has proven quite effective in some areas, and agents can assist in warning their insureds of the danger involved in dealing with persons whose identity has not been checked.

The Department of Labor reports that 426,628 persons were enrolled in the various manpower work and training programs at the end of January 1970.

"OH, MY ACHING BACK!"

Many occupations are conducive to backache, such as truck drivers, mailmen, baseball players, draftsmen, plumbers, and many others. There are twenty-six movable bones (called vertebrae) in the spinal column. A draftsman, for instance, bending over his board, can cramp one or more of these bones out of line. This creates pressure on nerves that carry nerve energy to organs and tissues of the body. When the displaced vertebrae are adjusted, flow of nerve energy is normalized. The cause of the ailment is removed and the pain more often than not disappears.

The Greeks knew about it. . . Hippocrates, the father of healing, said, "In cases of illness look to the spine first." If you are suffering from this or similar conditions you should consult your chiropractor immediately. Call today for an appointment for consultation to see if yours is a chiropractic case.

County Agent's Notes . . .

Field Day Set At McGregor

By J. D. Moore

Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist, adds that post emergence chemical weed control practices in cotton are positive control measures.

In small, young cotton—three inches high—if grasses alone are the problem, Elliott suggests the use of naphtha or DS MA plus surfactant formulations. If a combination of both grass and broadleaf weeds are the problem in small, young cotton, then a combination of DSMA plus Cotoran plus surfactant is suggested.

After cotton is larger and is six to eight inches tall, the continued use of Cotoran plus DS MA plus surfactant is recommended. Also, notes Elliott, a number of other materials can be used with DSMA plus surfactant. These include Diuron, Herban, or Caparol.

The cotton specialist emphasizes that any tough grass and weed control situation can be handled without expensive hand hoeing.

He suggests that a copy of B-1029, "Suggestions for Weeds Control with Chemicals," be obtained from the local county agent.

He emphasizes that container labels should be read and carefully followed when chemicals are being used for any purpose, including grass and weed control.

SUBSTITUTE CHEMICALS

You can spray your way out of the grass and weeds in cotton cheaper and easier than by using hand hoeing, states a Texas A&M University cotton specialist.

A field day to study grasses, soils and crops will be held at the Agricultural Research Center, McGregor, on May 21.

The event will start at 8:30 a.m. and end at noon.

Subjects to be discussed include "Fertilizing oats for grain and forage", "A year-round pasture program using perennial grasses", as well as other subjects of interest to farmers and stockmen.

TEX ROGERS

Rogers To Edit New 'Horsepaper'

A new monthly, tabloid "horsepaper" makes its debut in May with Tex Rogers as editor.

"The Texas and Southwestern Horseman" is the name of the new publication, which will cover Texas horse action -- such as racing, cutting, trail rides, rodeos and news of riding clubs, breed associations and youth events.

"More people than ever in Texas and surrounding states own and use horses," Rogers says. "The horse population here in Texas has jumped from 237,000 in 1959 to nearly 600,000 in 1970."

Rogers was formerly assistant agricultural editor and state news reporter with The Houston Post before joining Cordovan Corp. of Houston, publisher of the new paper, and also publisher of "Horseman, the Magazine of Western Riding."

Circus Opens Friday In Waco Coliseum

"The Greatest Show on Earth" will be in Waco Friday, May 15.

Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey Circus opens a four day stay at the Heart of Texas Coliseum with 4:15 and 8:15 performances on Friday.

There will be matinee and evening performances on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The afternoon shows on Saturday and Sunday start at 2:30 p.m.

Gunter Gebel Williams is billed as the star performer but the show will have many more stars.

The circus will arrive in Waco about 12 noon Thursday, May 14. The elephants and other animals will be unloaded at track near 4300 block of Franklin Avenue.

Animals will be unloaded at 5:30 p.m. and the "Elephant Walk" to Coliseum will begin at 6 p.m.

Circus officials predict the parade will draw thousands.

For additional information contact Dub King, Waco at 756-2662.

The more than 80,000 units of State and local government in the United States had employed about 9 million people in 1969 and may employ over 11 million persons by 1975.

MYSTERY FARM - Do you recognize the farm shown in this aerial photograph taken in 1958? The Herald has a number of unidentified farm photographs like this that may be picked up farm owners.

Get Ahead In Your Job

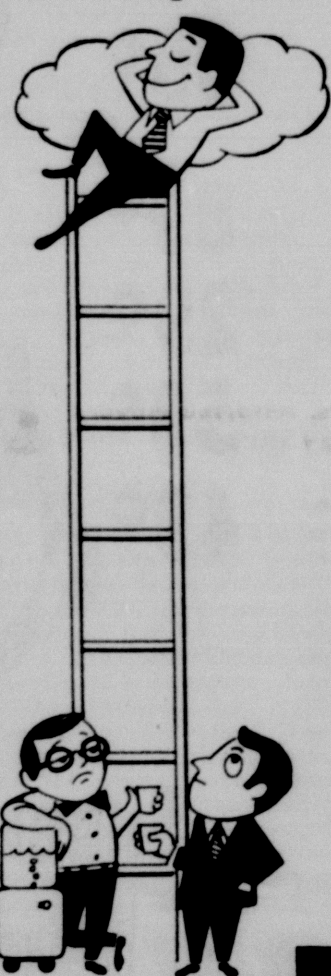

Here Are Seven Ways To Get A Raise

Turn out more work? Beat your deadlines? Of course. Come up with an idea that earns or saves a tidy sum for the company? No doubt about it -- you're in line for a raise if you do any of these things.

But, how do you do it? If you're already doing a good job, how can you do a sufficiently better job to make the big difference?

These seven steps, taken in many a successful career, may help.

1. Listen with both ears. Speech experts estimate that the average man hears only half of what's said to him! By getting all the facts the first time around, you avoid costly mistakes and time-wasting backtracking. A busy boss prizes the employee who has to be told only once.
2. Become an idea man. It's easier than many people think. Be observant! That's the first step. Be skeptical that the "tried and true" way is always the best! That's the second. Train yourself to pinpoint areas of waste, inefficiency, needless complications in your daily work routine. Form the brain-storming habit: write down as many solutions as you can think of, drawing on everything you know from your own experience and from what you have observed. Many of the best "new" ideas are simply adaptations of procedures that worked in other fields.

3. Recognize your failings. It's fine to have faith in your abilities, but it may be equally profitable to understand what traits are blocking your path to success. What does the boss most often criticize about your work? Would certain tasks be easier if you were better organized or more highly trained?
4. Know your boss's job. So that one day when he moves up to a higher slot you'll be a logical candidate to succeed him. Also, if you know your boss's job -- understand the duties of all the other people who report to him, and how he coordinates their efforts -- you'll have a clearer perspective of your own job. You'll understand his problems and pressures, and how to be most useful to him. In short, you will be a more effective employee -- the kind who deserves and gets a raise!

5. Make the clock work for you. Plan your time as much as possible by using calendar pads, memory-jogging notes, and methodical files. Get into the habit of estimating how long each task should take you, then trying to save a few minutes . . . a half hour . . . even several hours off your deadline. Here's where being a clock-watcher can help you -- if you use the clock as a stimulus, not an escape.
6. Learn! Read as widely as possible: trade publications, professional and technical books in your field, general-interest magazines. That money-making knack of idea creation depends to a great extent on how much knowledge you can draw upon. Also, seek to acquire skills that will make you more promotable; a working knowledge of accounting, for example, will probably make you a lot more valuable to your company, no matter what type of business it is, or maybe you should consider preparing yourself for a transfer to a growth area such as accounting where the demand for qualified people exceeds the supply.

Wonder if you have an aptitude for that kind of work? Write the Information Department, International Accountants Society, Inc., 209 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Ill. 60606, the largest and oldest home-study school in America teaching accounting and allied subjects exclusively, and ask for an accounting aptitude test. There's no charge and you can take the test at home and score it yourself.

Over 177,000 servicemen who had reentered civilian life between July 1968 and June 1969 were aided by unemployment compensation. Average duration of benefits received by these former servicemen was 9.3 weeks compared with the average 11.4 weeks for all unemployment insurance claimants.

ASCS News

By Alva E. Sanders

Early certification by Milam County farmers in the voluntary farm programs will mean earlier program payments.

Certification must be made by the disposition date of July 1 for cotton, feed grain, peanuts, and diverted acreage. If peanuts are not planted by July 1, they can be reported by September 1. When certification is made earlier, the certification date becomes the final farm disposition date.

Farmers are cautioned against guesswork. They must know their exact acreage of feed grain, peanuts, and cotton. They must also know the acreage diverted from wheat and feed grains, and that they have met their farms' conserving base requirements.

When a farmer certifies his compliance with the farm program provisions, the Milam County ASCS Office begins processing the papers so that he will receive full payment as soon as possible after July 1. Target date for completion of 1970 farm program payments is July and August.

Farmers are reminded of the following major points involved in certifying their farms in compliance with the farm programs:

Certification must be exact. Spot checks may be made at any time following certification. If an error is found, some or all of the program payments may be lost. After certification, adjustments cannot be made to bring acreage into compliance.

Any farmer having difficulty in measuring his acreage for an accurate certification can still obtain measurement service by applying for it at the county office.

Finish planting before making certifications. Be sure the allotment, base, or permitted acreage has not been exceeded on all farms in which the farmer or his immediate family has an interest.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Beef Rib Eye (Delmonico) Roast

Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?
A. It comes from the meaty heart of standing rib. All bone and rib cover has been removed. A very thin layer of inner fat covers a small portion of outer lean area.

Q. How is it prepared?
A. By roasting. To roast, place the rib eye fat side up on rack in open roasting pan. Season with salt and pepper. Insert roast meat thermometer so bulb is centered in the thickest part, being sure it does not rest in fat. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a moderate oven (350°F.) to the desired degree of doneness. The meat thermometer should register 140°F. for rare; 160°F. for medium; 170°F. for well done. Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound for rare, 20 to 22 for medium and 22 to 24 for well done.

Badgers Bees In Playoff

The Buckholts Badgers and the Academy Bees will meet at Academy Thursday night (tonight) at 8 o'clock for the playoff game to determine the district baseball championship.

Both teams have a 3-1 record in district play this year, a repeat of last year, when the Badgers and the Bees tied for the title.

Captain Tim Johnson's team has a 4-3 record for the season -- also the same season record for the Badgers at this time last year.

In last year's playoff game, the Bees downed the Badgers 9-2.

What's In A Name

If you ask a florist for a bouquet of daffodils and narcissus, don't be surprised if all the flowers look alike.

Most plants have two names, but usually only one has widespread use. The trumpet-shaped flower of Spring, however, will answer to both its botanical name, narcissus, and its common name, daffodil.

To add to the confusion, there's the jonquil. Actually a variety of daffodil with long rush-like leaves, the jonquil often is used as a third name for the daffodil or narcissus, particularly in the southern United States.

Aluminum 'Strike' Likely For Backyard Prospectors

NEW YORK (AP)—Looking for a way to get the kids out of the house and interested in doing something different?

Tell them to go out and dig for aluminum.

They won't have to go very far; the backyard will do. And they're sure to make an aluminum "strike."

All they have to do is scoop up one handful of dirt and they'll be holding some aluminum, the most abundant of all the structural metals on earth. Of course, it won't be in metallic form but as bauxite, the mineral from which aluminum is made.

Bauxite Plentiful

Bauxite has been found on every continent except Antarctica. Usually it lies in shallow deposits close to the surface.

As it is dug out, the bauxite ranges in color from yellowish-white to a plum-like red, depending on the amounts of iron oxide and to other impurities it contains.

According to The Aluminum Association's "Story of Aluminum," the metal, like all other elements, was originally formed during the birth of the solar system. When Earth's mass cooled, aluminum mixed with water and oxygen to form the original material from which bauxite was made.

As the earth's crust hardened, it was saturated with aluminum, silicon and oxygen. The main component of the Earth's skin.

Clays Formed

These ancient aluminum-silicon rocks, through physical and chemical action during the long cycles of time, became exceedingly fine and formed aluminous clays.

The clays, baked by the sun and pounded by rain, left an ore with a high count of aluminum oxides. These oxides regrouped into a new compound called bauxite after Les Baux, France, where it was discovered in 1821.

It is this new compound, of which there are a number of different types, that is spread in a wide belt around the earth. Its great abundance can make for some happy times by young backyard prospectors.

FOOD PRICE REALISM

It has been suggested that homemakers try a new twist on food shopping. Take two grocery carts through the super market -- in one, put food products -- in the other, non-food items. Total the bills separately. The idea may not be too practical but it will point up what's really being paid for food and might stop complaints about "high" food prices. It is estimated that more than 20% of the items in grocery carts are not food items but non-food products.

PLATE COLLECTION - Over forty plates are in Mrs. Grady Houston's collection, recalling history and special events in her life. The collection was started in 1946 when Mrs. Vance Wilkerson of the Salem community gave Mrs. Houston three plates that formerly belonged to her mother's collection.

Plate Collection Recalls Events

Family bibles and record books hold their place in keeping up with special dates and events but Mrs. Grady Houston, 706 E. 9th, Cameron, has another interesting way.

Mounted on the wall behind the Houston's living room divan is a collection of over forty plates. Each is a reminder of something special in Mrs. Houston's life.

Some of her oldest plates, the three starting her collection, are over eighty years old. Mrs. Vance Wilkerson, a native of the Yarrrellton community, and now in a Cameron nursing home, gave the plates to Mrs. Houston in 1946. They were part of a collection belonging to Mrs. Wilkerson's mother.

Through the years others have been added to the collection including one showing the Christian church at San Gabriel.

METHODIST WOMEN ATTEND ASSEMBLY

Mrs. W. C. Freeman and Mrs. Leland Green Sr. of Cameron were among 10,000 United Methodist women from all 50 states and overseas who attended the 1970 Assembly of the Women's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild in Houston May 7-10. The theme of the Assembly was "Choose Life."

The Assembly brought United Methodist women together for inspiration, study, discussion and fellowship, and focused attention on their work in missions, Christian social relations and other areas of church life and work.

The 1970 Assembly was the first held since the 1968 union of the former Methodist Church and former Evangelical United Brethren Church and the merger of their women's organizations.

The Assembly is sponsored by the Women's Division of the United Methodist Board of Missions, and is the national policy-making body for the Society and Guild.

First public motion picture was shown in 1895 in Paris, France.

The picture on the plate is a replica of one taken on the 100th anniversary of the church, which has since been torn down. Mrs. Houston's grandfather, Henry Baird, gave the land on which the church was built. Her mother played the organ there as a young girl.

Another plate and one of her most treasured was given to her in 1946 as a wedding present by Gene Crofford, a former employee of the Milam County courthouse. It is a plate showing the Milam County courthouse. It was originally bought from the R. H. Johnson jewelry store formerly located on South Houston.

One plate shows the old Hotel Nimitz, erected in 1847 in Fredericksburg and patterned after a steamboat. It was named after Chester W. Nimitz, born in 1885 and a United States Admiral in command of the U. S. Pacific fleet in World War II. The hotel is now a museum.

Other interesting plates in her collection include a picture of Texas bluebonnets, all presidents of the United States, up to the present time and a hand-

Labor Dept. Outlines 1970 Contract Provisions

WASHINGTON

Major collective bargaining settlements were negotiated during the first quarter of 1970 for nearly 650,000 workers — most of whom were in the electrical equipment, construction, apparel manufacture, and retail trade industries.

These agreements typically were for two years or more. It is anticipated that some 5 million workers will be covered by major settlements during 1970.

According to preliminary estimates of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, contracts negotiated during the period provided:

1. A mean wage and benefit package adjustment of 8.0 percent a year, assuming changes went into effect at equal intervals during the life of the contract, as compared with 8.2 percent for the full year 1969.
2. When actual timing of wage and benefit changes was taken into account, the mean adjustment amounted to 8.6 percent a year, the same as for the full year 1969.
3. Considering wage rates separately from benefits, a mean annual adjustment during the entire life of the contract of 8.0 percent of straight-time average hourly earnings, compared with 7.6 percent for the full year 1969.
4. In manufacturing, the mean adjustment dropped to 5.5 percent, from 6.0 percent in 1969; in nonmanufacturing, the mean adjustment accelerated to 11.3 percent, compared with 9.3 percent for the full year 1969.
5. With continued emphasis on first-year changes, a mean first-year wage adjustment of 10.8 percent of straight-time hourly earnings, up from 9.2 percent for the full year 1969. In manufacturing, the mean adjustment was 8.2 percent, compared with 7.9 percent for 1969; in nonmanufacturing, the first-year adjustment amounted to 14.1 percent, compared with 10.8 percent for the full year 1969.
6. In the construction industry considered separately, the mean first-year wage adjustment was 18.3 percent, while wage increases over the life of the contract averaged 14.4 percent a year. In 1969, the mean adjustment for both of these measures averaged 13.1 percent.
7. If construction industry settlements were excluded, the first-year wage rate adjustment would drop to 8.9 percent for all industries, and to 10.6 percent for nonmanufacturing separately.
8. For wage changes averaged over the life of the agreement, the all-industries mean adjustment would decline to 6.4 percent, and for nonmanufacturing alone the mean would fall to 8.6 percent.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yolles, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Mental Health Goals

"Treatment follows the buck" is an old saying that has been proved out by the way health services have developed in the United States.

This certainly has been true in the treatment of mental illness.

As men and women who work for wages in this country are well aware, the price tag for private psychiatric care has been too high for the individual wage-earner's pay check. In most instances, if the average person became mentally ill, he had no choice but to be committed by a court to a public mental hospital.

But this situation has changed in the past five years. In a growing number of communities in every part of the United States, groups of people are now sharing in prepayment or other third-party health benefit plans; and slowly but surely mental health services are being included in them.

As this pattern continues to develop, organizations such as labor unions and other insurable groups, will be able to get the kinds of comprehensive health and mental health services they want and need.

What began as a rebellion against the inadequate treatment of mental patients in overcrowded, isolated hospitals has become a national mental health revolution involving improved hospitals and treatments and, most dramatically, the burgeoning network of community mental health centers, now numbering nearly 400.

Thus, the old notion of mental health goals and services has changed. Having now recognized the relation of emotions to physical well-being, the problem is to prevent mental illness as well as to treat it.

This can only be achieved if there are accessible and available everywhere adequate mental health facilities and services. Also, the facilities must be administered and the services delivered by adequate numbers of people who understand the problems of those who come to them for help.

To develop these facilities and services and to recruit and train these people are mental health goals for the 1970's to be shared in by government, mental health professionals and allied personnel, communities, labor unions, industrial and business management, the insurance industry, volunteer groups, and individual citizens.

NUMBER 8 WILL SUBSTITUTES— LIFE INSURANCE EXEMPTION FROM CREDITORS

Life insurance is something no one really wants but the head of almost every family has. It is a large part of the average man's estate.

As a result, laws have been passed to encourage the purchase of life insurance. A benefit given to policy holders is that the life insurance is exempt from creditors' claims. Thus, if a father dies leaving debts or claims, his life insurance will be available to support his widow and orphaned children (assuming he named them as beneficiaries and made the policies payable to them on an installment basis).

The only exception to this is a claim for unpaid taxes due the federal government. The proceeds are not exempt from the creditors of the one getting the insurance if payable in a lump sum.

TEXAS INHERITANCE TAX ADVANTAGES

Texas inheritance tax and community property laws make it possible to pass $80,000 of life insurance proceeds to a widow without any inheritance taxes. In fact, if the wife's $25,000 exemption for property received from her husband is used, a total estate of $130,000 of life insurance proceeds could pass to her.

This is a condensed version of one of 10 chapters of a 21-chapter book, "How To Live—and Die—With Texas Probate," copyrighted by the Gulf Publishing Company. These condensations in no way cover the whole volume, which can be purchased from your local bookstore or from Gulf Publishing Co., P. O. Box 2708, Houston 77001.

and no inheritance tax would be due.

Some $65,000 of these proceeds would be hers to begin with, since insurance purchased during marriage is community property. Some $40,000 of the husband's half would be exempt from Texas inheritance taxes if payable to the wife. In addition she is allowed the regular $25,000 exemption under the Texas inheritance tax law for property passing to her from her husband.

There would be a federal estate tax of only about $150 due in the above example, since only $80,000 of the husband's property is exempt from the estate tax.

TYPES OF LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES

While there are many types of life insurance policies, the two most important to the average person are ordinary life and term policies.

The ordinary life policy is a permanent contract with fixed (non-increasing) cost to the purchaser based on his age at the time he takes out the policy.

The term policy is paid for at one rate during each term (one to five years) for which it is purchased. It is cheaper than ordinary life insurance, but as each term ends it costs more to renew, since the owner will be older and more likely to die during the new term for which the company has agreed to take the risk.

METHODS OF PAYING PROCEEDS

After it is decided who will get the insurance, it must be decided how the insurance will be paid.

The life policy will provide four ways to pay the insurance at death. These are the interest option, the fixed period option, the fixed amount option and the life annuity option — each serving a different purpose.

INCOME TAX BENEFITS

Congress has provided two very useful tax benefits for owners of life insurance. The death benefits are exempted from the income tax. It makes no difference how the beneficiary receives the proceeds (i.e. lump sum, 240 monthly installments or a life annuity) or how many premiums were paid by the insured.

The next tax benefit from life insurance comes only to widows or widowers. If the surviving spouse takes one of the installment options (other than the interest option), Congress allows a beneficiary to receive up to $10,000 tax-free interest on insurance money left with the insurance company.

WHO SHOULD DECIDE HOW PROCEEDS ARE TO BE PAID?

Either the husband during his life or the widow after his death can decide how the policy proceeds will come to her. Which decision should be made depends on the financial situation of the family at the husband's death and on the ability of the widow either to make the best decision after her husband's death or to get good advice.

GIFTS OF POLICIES

A gift of an insurance policy can be made. The husband may make a gift of an insurance policy to his wife, or to a trustee of a trust for the benefit of his wife and then to his children, or to his church or college.

If he makes a complete gift of a policy, then at his later death the proceeds will not be included in his taxable estate for Texas inheritance tax and federal estate tax purposes. Many reasons exist for giving a policy away during one's lifetime.

Gifts of policies are subject to the federal gift tax. The value of a life insurance policy for gift tax purposes is the cost of replacing it. This is an amount quite close to the cash value of the policy.

Accent on Health

It was in the early 1900's that chlorination was accepted as a means of disinfecting water. Prior to this, thousands of lives were lost through improperly handled water. Typhoid, dysentery and other water-borne diseases were prevalent.

Sewage treatment often was no more than a collection system sending the waste to the closest water course, and often a downstream city's water supply was served by that water course.

In the early water works system, a person with only a reasonable amount of mechanical ability was needed to maintain the pumps drawing water from the stream or from the wells, and the "operator" normally had little esteem among his fellow citizens.

With urbanization after 1910, demands pyramided on city services for new streets, electric power, waste collection and water treatment. The "town pumper" was rapidly being left behind by advancing technology in the water and wastewater fields.

But in 1945 the Legislature passed the Texas Sanitation and Health Protection Law which stated that water facilities producing water sold to the public, as well as public sewage treatment plants, should be operated by persons holding certificates of competency issued under the direction of the Texas State Department of Health.

Efficient city management has adopted the policy of requiring certified operators in all phases of water utilities. Operators gain the necessary skills by attending utilities short schools held throughout the state.

Much is gained by having certified operators in municipal water systems. Persons having the educational requirements and passing examinations given by the State Health Department are equipped to perform their duties as operators in a more efficient manner.

In addition to protecting public health, the community may save untold thousands of dollars by assuring proper water and sewage plant management.

Farmer Feeds 43

Before the Civil War, the American farmer produced food and fiber to feed and clothe himself and three other persons; by the beginning of World War II that figure had jumped to the farmer and 11 persons; today it's the farmer and 42 other persons. This substantial decrease in rural labor releases the majority of our population to work in current urban-centered technological economy.

7 Lane Super Stores

Supermarkets in the U.S. average seven check-out counters, each check-out handling an average of 1,043 customer transactions per week. A typical new supermarket employs 23 full-time and 20 part-time workers—a far cry from the corner grocery where the owner manned his own shop, sometimes helped by his wife during busy hours.

Today a single girl needs more than just a closet full of clothes to call her own.

Like a closet full of eligible bachelors for starters.

But that's the rub.

If you're one of those women who doesn't want to get married, at least not right away, you know what we mean.

You want to live a little first. You want to kick up your heels, see a little of the world before you settle down.

But, because you're you, you still want security.

That's where U.S. Savings Bonds come in. Bonds are a secure way to save. And you don't have to be making a fortune to save them. You can get started with just a few dollars a payday when you join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

And now Bonds pay 5% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year; thereafter 5.20% to maturity). That's the highest rate ever.

Who knows, the money you save might just come in handy when you fall in love and marry that guy who hasn't made his first million yet.

U.S. Savings Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a good way to save.

Take stock in America.

With higher paying U.S. Savings Bonds.

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. It is presented as a public service in cooperation with The Department of the Treasury and The Securities Council.

Teacher Aides Lighten Load

AUSTIN

Many Texas public schools, faced with teacher shortages and crowded classrooms, have been using "teacher aides" to lighten the load.

While these classroom assistants are not certified nor trained to teach, they can operate machines, check papers and keep order while teachers work individually with students.

They've proved so helpful, in fact, that the Legislature saw fit in 1969 to pass a new law which will make "teacher aides" a fixture in Texas public schools beginning next September.

The provision for teacher aides is contained in House Bill 240, the Minimum Foundation Program amendments of 1969, authored by the late Rep. George T. Hinson of Mineola in the House, with a companion bill by Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris in the Senate.

The law states: "Effective for the school year 1970-71 and thereafter there shall be provided one teacher aide for each 20 classroom teacher units earned by a school district. For the school year 1970-71 an aide shall be paid a monthly salary of $300 and shall receive such salary for 10 months." This will mean about one teacher aide for every 500 students in the schools.

Jewell Harris, Abilene classroom teacher who last month became president of the 127,500-member Texas State Teachers Association, feels that adding teacher aides in the Texas schools will bring immediate and dramatic improvement in their instructional programs.

A classroom teacher for the past 27 years, Mrs. Harris speaks from experience. "Teacher aides have already been tried in many of our schools, and have proven their worth," she says. "The program offers wonderful possibilities for increasing the effectiveness of our professional personnel."

In addition to aides in the schools, Texas teachers will continue to look for help from another army of other teacher aides--the parents of some 2.6 million youngsters in Texas schools. They have always been an important ally of the teachers, and a major factor in how much their children benefit from school.

PARENTS PLEDGE

For parents who want to know, specifically, what they can do to help their children learn, a St. Louis school district developed a "Parents Pledge of Cooperation." It goes like this:
